Measurements:

Length of 18 large flower Lariat:
175cm/68.8inches

Small Flowers: 5cm/1.9inches

Length of 22 small flower Lariat:
206cm/81.1inches

Notes:

- Stitch counts appear in purple.
- Small Red numbers indicate corresponding photographs.
- Do not twist your chain when working.
- If you would like the flowers to sit flat and not cup, add an extra chain to the chain 5 in the final steps. I wanted mine to cup slightly to add body to the flower.
- The smaller flower version omits the third round.
- Gauge has not been listed for this item as it is not relevant.
- This is a very versatile pattern. The following are a few of the different ways to make this:
  1. If you prefer the flowers to be further apart simply add chains to the chain section between the flowers and picots. If you work your chains in a tight manner also add more.
  2. Add more picots on the chains.
  3. Make just the small flower.
  4. Make just the large flower.
  5. Alternate small and large flowers.
  6. Change the Treble of round two into a double treble for exceptionally large flowers.
  7. Use up scraps of yarn by fastening off and joining in a new colour.

I recommend blocking the lariat for the best results.

How to Block:

1. Using a clean spray bottle and water, dampen the yarn.

If you have blocking boards large enough, lay the lariat out on them. If not, find a clean flat surface to lay out.

2. Stretch the lariat gently into the shape you want it to dry in. Pin (if you are on a surface which allows this).
3. Allow to dry.
